

Accessible document

Title of the document is introducing Sodexo Energy and Resources

Document language is English

Video begins

We believe energy and mining companies deserve better service.

So how can food and facilities management raise the bar?

With frontline teams that embrace a culture of safety second to none

People ready to optimize everything about the spaces your staff live and work in.

A place to rest and re-energize after a hard day's work ...

Food that's prepared with the health and wellbeing of your workers in mind.

Close partnerships that improve operations and service.

A team that finds problems earlier, solves them quicker and mitigates the causes, once everything is happily resolved. Because wherever you are ...

the energy and resources industry needs to improve efficiency and look after its people.

Good enough isn't good enough for food and facilities management. From service to safety, and people to productivity, we're raising the bar.

Sodexo Energy & Resources

We're raising the bar.

Video ends